Task 1. Individually, students note down advantages and disadvantages to studying online. Tell students to refer to Key concepts for ideas and help with vocabulary. In pairs, students then compare their ideas and discuss any similarities or differences. Elicit ideas in open class and encourage students to write their ideas on the board so that they can be referred to later on in the lesson.

Task 2. READING. Ask students to look at the statistics about university students and technology and discuss if any of the statistics surprise them and if so, which ones and why. Elicit answers from students in open class.

Task 3. SPEAKING. In pairs, students answer the questions. Elicit from students if their answers coincide with the most common answers in exercise 1.

Task 4. Listening. Play the track for students to listen to the definitions of eight words and write the correct form of the words in exercise 5 that match them.
