

Exercise 15

Match the explanations with the words from the text

1. roughly, about, close to	a. means
2. a great number of	b. approximately
3. that can be foreseen	c. trend
4. mode, way	d. numerous
5. creation	e. primary
6. easily influenced	f. promote
7. ending	g. fundamental
X without an effort, unchecked	h. predictable
> first in importance	i. irreversible
10. tendency	j. prospective
11. that cannot be turned back	k. fluency
12. advance	l. spontaneous
13. ability to write and speak easily	m. absorb
14. keep	n. inflection
15. very important	o. coinage
16. take in	j). flexible
17. very promising	q. store

Exercise 16

Replace the underlined words by a suitable word from the right hand column in Exercise 15. Make changes, if necessary.

- Modern English has no endings to show singular or plural, or gender.
- Speaking one world language will be important to achieve success.
- The process of spreading English appears to have no way back.
- English has been advanced to being the international language.
- English takes in words of the countries into which it expands.
- English is the main international language used in diplomacy.
- Most information kggt in computers is written in English.
- The tendency is for English to spread round the world.
- Many events of that period could be easily foreseen.
- Your first and foremost task is to work hard to achieve success.
- Unchecked creation of new words have made English an effective way of communication.

- Speaking and writing English easily is required for this job.
- There are a lot of examples of slang in each section of society.
- The chance of any artificial language becoming an international tongue does not seem too promising.

Exercise 17

Make the adjectives

variable, certain, considerable, considerate, effective, available, possible, important, official, flexible, regular, formal acceptable, different, reversible, common

a. negative with the aid of one of the negative prefixes:

un -	im -	in -	ir -

b. nouns with the help of the following suffixes:

-(t)ion	-(i)ty	-ness	a(c)rwe

Exercise 18

Fill in the spaces in the chart with correct derivatives of the given words.

Verb	Noun / person	Adjective
imply		implied
	1. communication 2.
consider		1. 2.