

Psychology of family AND marriage

Maira Pobedoniva Kabakova, psychology sciences candidate, associate professor of General and Applied Psychology department, al-Farabi Kazakh National University, Professor of the Russian Academy of Natural Science, Graduated psychology faculty of Sankt-Petersburg State University.

In 2017 was stated and received the grant "Best tutor of the University 2017".

Field of research interests: marriage and family psychology, social psychology. Author of 250 scientific, educational and methodological works. More than 100 scientific publications dedicated to family and marriage issues, especially training manual "Psychological research methods of family" (Almaty, Kazakh University, 2007), monograph "Psychology of family and marriage: theory and practice" (Germany, Saarbrücken, 2012), Practical psychology. Case collection (Almaty, Kazakh University, 2014), training manual "Psychology of family and marriage" (Almaty, Kazakh University, 2014 in Russian Language, 2018 in English Language), monograph "Psychological aspects of marital relationships stabilization" (Almaty, Kazakh University, 2014 in Russian Language, 2018 in English Language), monograph "Psychological features of the Kazakh family" (Almaty, Kazakh University, 2018 in Russian Language).

M. P. KABAKOVA

Psychology of family and marriage

